"Oh yeah! Rolling around at the speed off sound."

Who is this daredevil speed demon? Why, none other than Mobius's one cool blue dude with an attitude. That's right!

"Here comes sonic!" He shouted speeding off a ramp performing ariel tricks letting his heart and feet take him where ever he went. Sonic is a hyperactive hedgehog built on speed, this 5'7 hedgehog is the fastest thing alive when it comes to racing or just running in general. Sonic ended his stunt landing back on the ground heading to mystic ruins.

"Wonder what Tails is up to." Sonic said taking a sharp turn before Tails workshop came into view.

"Probably tinkering with the tornado again." Sonic laughed to himself arriving at the front of the shop. Sonic planted his heels screeching to a stop in front of the door leaving a trail of churned dust behind him.

"Well, he'll be glad to see his old buddy sonic either way." Sonic said opening the door.

"Yo Tails, long time no see-huh?" Sonic walked in and didn't see his two tailed fox Companion.

"Hey, Tails! You here?" Sonic called out, but there was no answer.

"Tails?" Sonic searched around to find him, he looked in the workshop to see if he was inventing something.

"Tails? Where are you buddy? _Not here either._" sonic kept looking around more and found no sign of his best friend.

"That's weird. Tails usually stays here." Sonic thought, "Maybe he went to station square. " sonic shrugged. He then opened the door and boosted out.

"Well, if Tails isn't in. Maybe Knuckles is around." Sonic said speeding off into the distance.

>Meanwhile...

>"I can't wait for today's picnic, spike! Do we have everything?" A lavender anthro unicorn said.

"Yep, we got sandwiches, Apples, cupcakes, and a ripe tasty gem just for me." Spike said licking his lips. This anthromorphic dragon stood about 5'0 ft tall wearing his favourite black leather jacket that had an S in the bottom corners with yellow lining going along the zip up. He wore black baggy jeans with a belt holding it up at his waist and was wearing white sneakers.

"Ah, no. Not until we get there."

"Aw, come on Twilight. Just a little nibble." Spike pleaded.

"Sorry Spike." Twilight told him.

"Aw man." He sighed closing the basket.

"Okay, I'm ready. Let's go." Twilight said leaving out the door. She was dressed in a short sleeve T-shirt with pink on the sleeves connecting on each side going across the collar. It showed she had a bust, not too large, not too small. She wore beige short bottoms with purple sneakers. Her mane and tail were sleek dark purple with lighter purple and bright pink streaks going through them.

"Alright, I wish something exciting would happen though. These passing days get kinda boring." Spike said grabbing the basket.

>Back with Sonic...

>"Knuckles wasn't around either. This is too weird." Sonic said to himself eating a chilli dog.

"Tails wasn't in his workshop, Knuckles wasn't watching the master emerald, even Amy wasn't chasing him around at all. Something is wrong here." Sonic said. He got up and decided where they could be at.

"Hmm, Egghead could have something to do with this. Time to pay a visit." Sonic said gulping down his chilli dog then burning a peelout to Eggmans secret base, sonic boosted breaking the sound barrier performing his signature Sonic Boom. After what seemed like just mere seconds sonic arrived at the base.

"Okay Eggman, let's see if your up to something" sonic said as he snuck through a vent after spindashing through it. After maneuvering through them, sonic dropped down from one of vent covers. He looked around, no robots were around.

"Eggmans getting low on security or he is too lazy to check." Sonic said blasting down the hallway through the spiral corridors. He zoomed around until he saw a door. He stopped in his tracks and read the sign above it.

"Attention, restricted area to all Eggman personal." Sonic read, paying no mind to it sonic entered it anyway. Curiosity looms over.

"What could Eggman possibly hide.?" Sonic said as he went in and flipped the light switch. The flickered a bit before fully turning on brightly. Sonic shielded his eyes from it and waited for them to adjust to the lighting. He reclaimed his vision and stared at what was before him.

"What the heck!" Sonic shouted as what he saw shocked him beyond belief.

"No way, how is that even possible."

Sonic was staring... at hiself, his body was the exact same as the wonic doppelganger in the pod in front of him. There were wires connecting to it and programming software next to it. Sonic went closer, it read system failure.

"No way, it's probably just another robot." Sonic told himself. He looked up and down on the other "Sonic" and put his hand to his chin.

"At least, that's what I want to think." Sonic said knocking on the glass.

"Hand accessibility online. Please place your hand on the scanner." A robotic voice said. Sonic immediately jumped back from the sudden change in mood. He looked around the room once more before the floor opened up. A handprint identification station then came up out of it.

"What is really going on here." Sonic said walking up to the device. He looked at the scanner and took off his glove and placed his hand down on it.

"Processing...identification complete." It said. The hatch then sprayed air whistling as it opened up slowly.

"How does know my handprint?" Sonic said looking at his hand before putting back on his glove. He walked over to the hatch and put his hand near the cracked opening. "Better question...why is it mine?"

Sonic then pulled the hatch up letting the smoke build up pile out of it. He then looked at a dusty metal tag on the hatch cover. He swiped his hand across it clearing it off.

"Sonic "Maurice" hedgehog...huh, guess it is me." Sonic frowned. His whole life, was it really just a lie? Had he really been alone all this time, everyone he knew...they don't exist.

"Tails, Knuckles, Amy...Everyone." Sonic let one tear fall from his eye, he quickly wiped it away.

"No, sonic. They're still friends, even if they aren't real. They've got a place in my heart." Sonic told himself hovering his hand over his chest gripping it tight.

Sonic then focused what was at hand, he picked himself up and looked on "sonic" who was still unmoving.

"Guess it's time to wake up." Sonic said looking at a button that read shutdown. He hovered his hand over it, nervous, shakey. What world would he wake up in? Was there even a world to wake up to? Sonic shook himself.

"No, I need to know. There has to be a reason why I'm In "there". Sonic said looking at himself. A big grin then snaked its way on his muzzle. He raised his hand high in the air.

"Let's do it, to it!" Sonic shouted slamming down on the button. Within an instant the entire room became a gridline square as every object began disappearing I. Pixels. Sonic then took a deep breath. Whatever is waiting outside of this world he had better be prepared. He should be able to do what he does best, no doubt. Running. His capoeira should stick with him, even if it is a fake world.

"Well, lets go on an adventure. This time my own adventure." Sonic said as he began to disappear in pixels, it was slower than the rate the objects disappeared in.

"Humph, after all." Sonic was half disappeared by now, he cocked a cheeky grin.

"The world needs to know, that I'm the fastest thing alive."

"I'm sonic the hedgehog!" Sonic then fully disappeared.

* * *

>"Sonic's back baby!"

* * *

>"Oh man, I guess sitting in a pod for a long time can really mess up your back." Sonic stretched cracking and popping a few joints and bones.

"They could've at least had cushion inside."

Sonic took a glance around, he seemed to be in an abandoned laboratory. He looked around at his surroundings, there weren't any other pods other than Sonics. He must've been the only one, which only led to the mystery of why he was the only one. Sonic got dizzy as he kept coming up with theories and knocked his head around a bit.

"Ah, no. If I think too much my head will explode." Sonic said placing a finger against forehead.

"Now, to get out of this dump." He said looking for an exit, a set of stairs or something. He finally saw some and walked over to them. He took one step and he heard it creak sending chills up his spine. Quickly he sped up the stairs before they came crashing down in a clutter.

"Ok, not going down there again." Sonic sweatdropped.

He forgot about the stairs and turned his attention to the room he was in. After taking a gander around, he saw it looked like ruins of an old castle after some huge battle.

"How decrepit, this place is dustier than my own dust trails." Sonic said turning more until he saw a pedestal.

"Huh? What's that." He walked over to it and got a closer inspection of it. It seemed to be a shrine to something, there were five spots where it was less dusty than anything else.

"Guess something "was" here. That is a question itself too." sonic said moving away from it.

"Well, i'm tired of this dusty old place. Time to take my leave." Sonic said smacking dust of his fur. He then looked for an exit, he spotted a set of double doors with one of them Completely destroyed. Sonic pushed them open and found himself looking at a forest of vines, trees, and some weird plant life. Especially some blue flowers that had been gathered in a patch. Sonic took note to just avoid them.

"Alright, time for Sonic speed!" Sonic proclaimed boosting forward at breakneck speed. Creating a shock wave as he ran bobbing and weaving through trees. He then spotted a vine and jumped up to meet it. He gripped it and used his momentum to flip himself and started to grind it maintaining balance and his speed.

"This is even better than i thought it would be." Sonic said flipping to other vines that appeared in different patterns along the trees.

"Oh yeah, nothings gonna slow me down!" Sonic shouted as he neared the end of the vine that lead to a cave.

"Aw, over so soon." Sonic said disappointed. He launched of the edge of the vine and landed on something furry. It was dark and the only thing he could see was stars...literally

"Whoa, talk about cool things to discover." Sonic said standing up, "why is it furry though?" Sonic asked himself. Just then a pair of eyes opened up revealing red pupils that glared. Sonic then felt movement which shook his balance and made him fall to the ground flat on his face. The eyes darted toward the hedgehog and he felt heavy breathing over his whole body. Sonic turned and faced the glaring eyes as they show teeth bigger than sonics body alone. He heard claws scratch the ground and huge footsteps making him bounce off the ground. Sonic backed out of the cave as whatever was in the cave followed him outside. The creatures appearance became relevant as it stepped into the light. It was a giant bear that had a purple hue and stars all over it. It stood about...you know what forget how tall it is. Its really fucking huge! Sonic only sat there and stared at the monstrous animal. The bear gave a giant Roar sending wind from it making sonic fly into a tree.

"Okay, this is a "Major" problem." Sonic said smirking. The bear stopped its roar and focused on Sonic. The bear then threw down its claw to stike Sonic.

"Ah Shit."

* * *

>Meanwhile...

>"Over a rock, through the trees, and he we are under the tree." Spiked chimed singing a rhyme.

"Ha ha, nice rhyme." Twilight congratulated. They arrived at a lone tree sitting in the middle of a meadow filled with flowers of variety and of many colors. Roses, daisy's, dandelions, You name it.

"Ah, it's so peaceful." Twilight said taking a deep breath letting the breeze flow past her hair. She felt it whiz by between her fingers and brushed away a strand of stray hair.

"Just like old times, right Twilight." Spike said standing next to her. Twilight tilted her head down at the dragon. She was 5'5", 5 inches taller than Spike, he was catching up.

"You've grown up since then, haven't you Spike. You're almost as tall as me." Twilight smiled. Spike turned to her and smiled a big grin.

"All because of you, right. My best friend." He told her. Twilight smiled even more.

"Well duh, you're my number one assistant." she told him giving him a noogie.

"Ah, hey! Twilight, cut it out." Spike laughed trying to get away from her fist digging on his skull.

"Hey, don't do noogies without me."

Twilight and Spike turned to see a light cyan blue anthro Pegasus.

"Rainbow dash, you got here quicker than usual." Twilight said.

"What do you expect, I'm the fastest flyer there is."

This Pegasus is Rainbow dash, she's a spunky girl with a need for speed and the loyalty binding her friends together. The cyan blue pony had a mane and tail that was a variety of colors, a "Rainbow" if you will. She wore a blue and white unzipped sports jacket with a white undershirt and blue and white track pants. Her physique showed she had a little bust. B-cups if you will. She stood at about 5'3" and had built body for athletics. She definitely could sucker punch you into a hospital.

"Well, regardless. Glad you came." Twilight said.

"Huh, you think I'd miss a picnic with you guys. No way." Rainbow dash said fist pumping.

"Dash, you couldn't at least dress well for the picnic."

"Rarity." They all said turning to face a white anthro unicorn.

"Hey, Rarity." Spike said a bit googly eyed staring at her.

"Good to see you all, darlings." She said winking.

Bab bada ba! Meet Rarity, this infamous fashion designer has a height of 5'7" and a very stylish purple mane and tail curled to perfection.

Rarity is know for her Generosity, and picky lifestyle when it comes down to it. Rarity was wearing a yellow sun hat with a white blouse that revealed a bit to the imagination, her size is D-cups according to spike. To top it off she had white flip flops. Rarity was certainly a stunning woman.

"Shut up, I don't need to." Rainbow glared at the unicorn fashinota's statement.

"Is it because your a tom boy." Spike said.

"I-that's-its not." They all laughed at her.

"That's not funny." She pouted.

"Its kinda funny." Spike said.

"Ya'll better leave some food for us." A country girl said.

"Are there any apples..." a timid voice said.

"Applejack, Fluttershy. A bit late aren't you." Rainbow dash said as they announced their presence.

"Sorry sugarcubes, bad to convince Fluttershy to come out of her cottage."

This orange Earth anthropic pony is Applejack, she's a rough and tough roudy cowgirl with a height of 5'10". Part of the Apple's family lineage, Applejack works to the bone and gathers apples to sell to the market and when seasons change, they make their famous Apple cider. Applejack wore a brown Stetson, a red flannel shirt tied together in a knot showing her D-cups visibly. They were slightly bigger than Rarity's, and Rarity glared at them. Applejack had tight jeans with her Cow girl boots with the jeans tucked in. Her blonde mane and tail were draped and In a tied bud.

"Sorry." The shy timid anthropic Pegasus apologized.

"It's ok Fluttershy. You came, you broke your own boundaries of your cottage to come here. That just shows how much our friendship mean to everyone. Were glad you made it." Twilight encouraged. Fluttershy smiled.

"Thanks Twilight." She said.

Like cute shy girls? Fluttershy is definitely one major cutie, this shy girl is 5'2" with an affinity for animals and their reaction is the same to her. Her mane and tail was curled and a light pink, she wore a yellow tank top, revealing her c-cups and she had a green skirt with butterflies on the side. Her shoes were pink sneakers.

"Now, we just need to wait on pinkie." Spike said.

"Did someone say Pinkie!" They turned to see their pink party pony, Pinkie pie.

"Hello everypony~ did you guys miss me." Pinkie said sticking her tongue out.

"Speak of the pink!" Rainbow dash said.

"Hee hee~."

* * *

>Warning: going to try fourth wall break. Tell me if I did well in the reviews. Thank you.

>Hey what's up Everypony! I'm Pinkie pie, I'm 5'3" and I love PARTIES! A lot boys tell me I have C-cups, I don't what they mean by that though. Ooh, maybe its a new tea cup. Anyway, I'm wearing a pink shirt with party ballons with a short-short jacket over me. I am also wearing white shorts with a pink stripe down the side. My mane and tail are pink and poofy, I'm also an earth pony. Yep that's me, Pinkie pie!

Okay a pony just took my job to describe herself. Well...shit happens.

**RRRRROOOOOAAAAARRRR!**

"What was that!?" Rarity said.

That sounded like...oh no!" Spike said realizing what roar that was.

**RRRRROOOAAAAARRRR**

"An "Ursa Major"!" Twilight gasped.

"What!" They all shouted.

**RRRRROOOOOAAAAARRRR!**

There!" Spike pointed to Everfree forest where the giant animal was in their sights smashing something in the forest.

"It's attacking something. Could it be another pony?" Fluttershy said hiding behind Applejack.

"Well whatever it is, it is definitely pissed." Rainbow dash said.

"We can't just stand here. We need to get it back in its cave." Twilight said.

"Sorry Twi, were not powerful against something that huge. This all you." Applejack said speaking her honest opinion.

"Yeah, I know what you mean Applejack. Even I know what I can and can't fight." Rainbow said beating herself up for even saying that. But it was true.

"I...understand." Twilight said.

"Don't worry Twilight, we'll go warn everypony and come back to help you in anyway we can. For now its up to you to save ponyville from that "critter". Applejack told her to reassure that they would be back to help her in some way.

"Thanks Applejack. I trust you." Twilight said hugging her. They let go of each other and went their separate ways.

"See ya in a bit sugarcube. Come on girls, Spike lets go." Applejack said as they ran to Ponyville. Except Rainbow who flew ahead of them.

"I trust in my friends." Twilight said running in the direction of the Ursa Major. The Ursa Major ran out of woods chasing something. It was coming in fast, it blew past her knocking her on the ground. The Ursa Major got closer with its paws stomping the ground. Twilight looked up and seen the large paw over her stomping down. She closed her eyes and waited for her existence to cease.

"Whoa that was close! Hey are you okay?"

Twilight opened her eyes to see a blue bipedal anthropic hedgehog. He had jade emerald eyes and red running shoes.

"Y-yeah I'm fine. Thank you." She said.

"Great, your not hurt. Can you fight?" He said.

"Yes, I can." The hedgehog had her bridal style in his arms and sat her down on her feet.

"Cool, by the way. Names Sonic, Sonic the hedgehog." Sonic said facing the Ursa Major.

"Sonic? Huh. Well mine is Twilight, Twilight Sparkle." She said also facing the Major.

"Humph. Alright! let's do this." He cocked a grin. Twilight couldn't help but do the same.

"Right with you." She said

>"Here we go!" Sonic Shouted charging forward running up the Ursa Majors body

"Whoa! He's pretty fast." Twilight said in amazement.

"Yo! Twilight! Can't do this by myself." Sonic shouted as the giant bear was hitting itself trying to hit the speeding hedgehog.

"Oh! Sorry." Twilight said focusing her horn as it glowed a purple aura.

"It's okay! take your time." sonic said nearing the Ursa's face.

"Hey, Yo Winnie the Pooh!" Sonic said turning around smacking his butt angering the huge monster.

"Try and catch me." He taunted. The Ursa brought it's arm up to smack the hedgehog off it's nose. Sonic quickly jumped up and made the Ursa smack itself.

"Ha! Why are you hitting yourself, haha." Sonic laughed.

**ROAR!**

"Uh oh, did i make you angry." Sonic looked on as the Ursa's paw came down at him.

"Oh, Crap!" Sonic said as he brought his arms up as an instinctive defense.

"Sonic!" Sonic was quickly pulled away by a strange force causing the Ursa to miss it's target. He looked to see he was being pulled to the ground by Twilight emitting a purple hue.

"Be careful, this isn't exactly a sandbox! You could seriously hurt yourself." She sat him down, "Looks like brute force isn't working."

"Then what should we do?" Sonic asked her. Twilight looked over the Ursa Major and talked to herself formulating a plot to get rid of it and make it go back to it's cave.

"Maybe if i...That's it! Sonic, I have a plan." Twilight said.

"I'm all ears." Sonic said grabbing Twilight Bridal style again as the Ursa's Major's paw came down.

"-But please dodge some attacks." Sonic sighed nearly missing a giant bear stomp on them.

"Right, Sorry." She said scratching her head.

"Okay, what's the plan?" sonic asked.

"I'm going to play a song in his ear." She said.

"Uh, Okay? Not the weirdest plan i heard, But its up there." Sonic said.

"Can you get me up to his ear?" Twilight asked. Sonic just smirked.

"Your talking to me here. I'll get us there in a sonic second." Sonic said boosting up the Ursa's leg and up to it's torso dodging smacks and making it up to his ears. In a sonic second!

"Told you. Now do your thing." Sonic said putting her down.

"I'll distract him, Good luck Twi." He said saluting her falling backwards. She gasped and looked over to see him giving a thumbs as he fell. She softened her expression with a smile.

"You Idiot." She said. She focused on what she had to do at hand.

"You go Twilight." Sonic said to himself. He looked back at the Ursa blowing a raspberry pulling down his eyelid.

"Nyan, Nyan, Can't hit me you stupid bear." he said.

**ROAR!****

"Whoa dude, you need a breath mint." Sonic said holding his nose. The Ursa took another swipe at Sonic, but missed as he landed on it's paw.

"Gee, You need fingernail clippers dude. I mean Look at these letter openers." The Ursa took another swipe and missed again, Sonic landed on his other paw.

"Man, those are better than barber scissors." Sonic said brushing off quills it nicked off him.

"Yo Twilight! Hows it going." Sonic said dodging another swipe.

"Still Charging." She said sweating beads.

"Okay, let me know what happens when your done." Sonic said clog dancing switching from paw to paw. He was toying with the creature.

"Almost tuned it..." Twilight said straining.

"Twilight, Watch out!"

"Huh?" Twilight looked seeing the Ursa's claws coming at her.

**SSSSSSCCCCCCCCCHHHHHH(uh, Ripping Sounds).****

"Augh!"

>"Everypony move!"

"An Ursa Major is possibly on its way. This is not a drill, go to the evacuation zone as per precautions." Applejack said calling her voice through a megaphone.

Rainbow dash was getting children from the Schools bringing them over. Fluttershy was gathering her animals and animals from other various stores and homes. Rarity was...well, being a drama queen you could say. Pinkie was handing out cupcakes for citizens to calm down some of the fuss. Spike was carrying a box containing some things very personal to him.

"OK everypony, that should be it. Now let's go help out Twilight." Everyone nodded. Spike put his box under a hole and covered it with a rock and followed after them.

* * *

>"Twilight, Nngh...you okay."

Twilight opened her eyes and found herself in ripped clothing that could tear at any moment, but she ignored the clothes and stared at the blue hero who had her in his arms.

"Sonic." She looked at him and saw a gash across his chest.

"Ah, your bleeding!"

"Don't worry about it...Gah! Just finish your plan." Sonic said letting go, the blood dropped from his chest and stained his glove as he was holding it. he let go and stood up properly and got back his cool attitude.

"Don't let this get in the way of others. You can...do this." He said ignoring the pain with a grin. Twilight nodded and charged her spell again, resuming where she left off.

"One more push." She said straining. The Ursa's paw came up once more coming toward them. Sonic didn't have the energy to get them out of there in time, so he quickly grabbed Twilight in an embrace holding her tight so at least she would be safe. The paw came closer and closer, it was like everything was in slow motion.

"I won't let him touch you Twilight, even if it means my life." Sonic thought.

"Now!" The paw came inches away, like five inches from sonic's position.

"Huh? What the-" Sonic was awestruck as a melody met his ears. it was soothing, relaxing, sweet. Like a lullaby, he looked down on Twilight who was half-awake.

"Twilight...This song, it's...it's-"

"Soothing." She said.

"No, I was gonna say boring, but yeah it is." He joked.

"Ha, Sonic you Idiot." She said. Sonic rolled slowly down the Ursa Major's huge body and landed on the ground with Twilight bridal style, again, he sat her down on the ground where they could rest easy. They looked at the Ursa who was yawning and turned it's way around and headed back to the forest it came from. Sonic looked at Twilight.

"How did you know that would work?" He asked her. She smirked at him.

"I've done it before on a small one, an Ursa Minor." She said.

"Humph, your really something. Twilight Sparkle." Sonic winked.

"You are too, Sonic the hedgehog." She winked back. The two shared a laugh. The laughter stifled as Twilight's Clothes ripped to shreds around her. Sonic was looking down at her as her...well, things bounced out and left a wide eyed expression on both their faces. Sonic's nose bled a little after he turned away from a red faced Twilight Desperately trying to cover herself.

"Sorry! I didn't see anything." He exclaimed.

"Oh my Celestia! This is so embarrassing!" She said

"Twilight are You Okay- Oh jeez." Rainbow dash said coming in.

"Rainbow darling why would you run ahead of us-Oh god! Spike don't look!" Rarity said.

"Huh? Wait! Hold on-OW!" Spike screamed as Rarity Scissor handed his eyes.

"My Eyes!"

"Twilight, What happened?" Applejack asked.

"Well...um."

"I think i know! That pervert over there must've done it."

"What!?" Sonic shouted.

"Get away from her you creep." Rainbow said taking charge.

"You get him Rainbow, He needs to learn not to strip girls." Pinkie said.

"Wait. Hold on." Twilight tried to interject, but was unheard. Rainbow reeled her arm back to throw a punch.

"Take this!" Rainbow shouted. Sonics primal instinct kicked in, he dodged her punch and grabbed her her arm. He kicked under her feet knocking her off balance, he then whipped around with his other arm and used it to put her to the ground holding her one arm and head to the ground...in a couple seconds.

"What the-"

"How about no. Wanna think before you act." He said. She tried to escape his grip, but she was in a lock.

"Rainbow. I'm coming." Applejack said coming in with a roundhouse kick. Sonic picked up on this and let go springing back dodging her attack.

"Ugh, you guys are taking this situation out of context."

"Shut up, you had me in a lock." Rainbow complained.

"Only cause you were going to punch me." Sonic said.

"Jeez Twi, some friends. You sure know how to pick 'em."

"Twilight, why is he talking to you at all." Rarity said.

"Cause he helped me with the Ursa." Twilight said

"This scrawny guy, helped you. Then what happened to your clothes." Applejack said.

"The Ursa was going to get me." Twilight looked over at sonic who was staring daggers with Rainbow dash.

"That's when sonic came in and saved me. The Ursa nicked my clothes at the last second." She said. Sonic heard his name and looked over with a smile and winked. Twilight smiled back.

"Well Twilight, my stay is done. I'll see you around sonic waved walking away.

"Yeah, good riddance." Rainbow said.

"Wait, what about your wound." Twilight said.

"I'll be fine, I'm sonic, Sonic the...hedgehog..." Sonic fell on his back.

"Sonic!" Twilight ran over to the fallen hedgehog. His breathing was heavy, his chest drenched in blood and the gash was opened more.

"Oh no! Fluttershy, your a medic. Can you help him?" Twilight said. Fluttershy meekly stepped forward and nodded.

"I have medical stuff at my house, we can fix him up there." Twilight said. "Applejack, Rainbow. Can you please carry him." They nodded and picked him up.

"Hang on Sonic. Well fix you up soon." Twilight said staring at him.

"Guys! What about me. Rarity stabbed my eyes...guys?" Spike said slowly following behind them.

If not friday then Saturday or Sunday, depending. So as always, if you liked it, leave your thoughts in the review and I hope to make more chapters. You guys are amazing. And hey I am going to stop making some Oc stories mainly because people really don't care for them. So yeah. Anyway see ya!

4. Update: our first hate comment! :D

**HORRAH! The first hate comment and criticism. Look I'll be honest, I really don't care about those kinds of reviews anymore mainly cause no one wins. I mean all you do is go on a rant on why something you don't like and list reasons on why it is a bad thing. Plus any readers who hate the story, i'm going to say one thing. Don't read it. If you don't like it then go to someone else's story. Why you take the time to criticize me i have no idea. Also just because a description of a character is too long and time wasting to you and you feel the need to get to the point, I did it because I wanted an imagery in readers so the imagination makes a scenario of it in their minds, plus its boring if its just a character with no definition in their own detail. This is my first time responding like this to a review, mainly because to just say what I think about people who rag on others work. Its called fanfiction for a reason after all. Unleashing your imagination. Sorry if everyone is offended by anything I say. I'm not trying to piss people off and if I do I'm sorry. Its not my intention to. Well anyway see ya guys I'll get back to making the next chapter for you all.**
